UM TO AWARD 1,923 DEGREES

The University of Montana Class of 1984 will leave the Oval at 1:40 p.m. Sunday, June 10, and proceed in academic garb to the Harry Adams Field House for commencement exercises that will start at 2 p.m.

The 1,923 degrees to be awarded include 19 associate arts, 1,413 bachelor's, 375 master's and 116 doctor's. The last include 70 law degrees and an honorary doctor of science.

The honorary doctorate will be conferred upon alumnus Richard Remington, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Iowa. The educator, biostatistician and epidemiologist has been instrumental in developing community programs directed at getting Americans to reduce their risk of heart disease by modifying their lifestyles.
